5 STARS AWARDED TO HOTEL D'ANGLETERRE BY MICHELIN

The famous Michelin Guide award stars to Danish tourist attractions & hotels. Hotel D'Angleterre is the only Danish hotel to receive five stars by the Guide.

The Michelin Guide is mostly connected with the world of gastronomy, and the red guidebook is considered a bible for aficionados, travelling the world in pursuit of pleasing senses and taste buds alike.

The Michelin Guide is not only one, two or three-starred restaurants, it also has a section awarding hotels between one and five stars, in the shape of "hotels". Hotel D'Angleterre, as the only hotel, has been honoured with five "hotels", by the Michelin Guide's inspector.

As well as restaurants and hotels, Denmark's tourist attractions have also been evaluated by the Guide.

10 Danish sights and attractions have received top marks in the shape of three stars, whereof 5 attractions are situated in Copenhagen: Nyhavn, The Ny Carlsberg Glyptotek, The National Museum, Rosenborg Castle & The National Gallery.

Whereas none of the Danish restaurants have earned three stars from the Michelin Guide as yet, Hotel D'Angleterre and 10 of the country's most prominent tourist attractions can pride themselves on having obtained top marks.
